Annual Valley Village July 4th Parade

It's time to get ready for the Valley Village July Fourth Parade. Plans are in progress for the best parade ever. The creative, hard working committee members of the Valley Village Homeowners Association promise to make this a banner event.

Many Village neighbors are planning to decorate vehicles as floats. Join the fun and create a homemade float to express your fantasy. There will be awards for various categories; for floats, for fun costumes, for best-dressed dogs and others. Entries will be judged as they line up on Addison Street at Colfax Elementary School. Judging will take place between 9:15am and 9:45am. Valley Village Homeowners Association will give gift certificates contributed by local merchants. There will also be a drawing for a gift basket for new members joining The Association at the park.

Founding member and Association President Lori Dinkin will be honored as Grand Marshal. Neighborhood Council Valley Village will also take part in the parade.

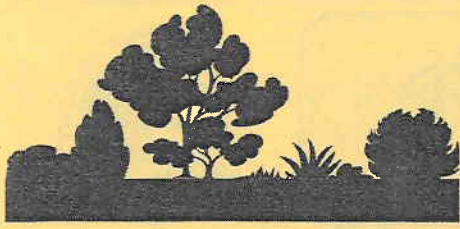

If you are not going to walk in the parade, come out and cheer marchers on as they pass by and then join us at the park for refreshments. The Homeowners Association will provide free refreshments at Valley Village Park where the Parade ends. There will be corn dogs as well as watermelon, Independence Day cupcakes and bottled water.

Program Ideas

We would like to increase attendance at our VVHA meetings. Those attending often comment on how interesting and informative the meetings are. Putting together these meetings requires lots of thought and effort. If you have ideas for future speakers and/or subjects, please call Lori Dinkin at 818-506-5158.

From The President

Dear Neighbor:

A very ugly situation has arisen in our wonderful Valley Village. There are people at work who are determined to destroy our Valley Village Specific Plan which has protected us from runaway construction and building heights since its inception in 1993.

Let me explain in plain everyday language just what is happening without going into the complicated zoning restrictions. You can hear about that at the Neighborhood Council Valley Village Planning and Land Use Committee meeting on June 8th at 7:00pm at Colfax Elementary School.

To our dismay, Stevens' Nursery, including the land it stands on, has been sold. Schaffel Development Company, Gary Schaffel, President, is purchasing the property. We had dealings with Gary Schaffel many months ago regarding a large condo project on Whitsett and Otsego and had come to a satisfactory agreement. This property is now under construction.

Along comes Mark Gelfat who wants to operate the Stevens' Nursery. So far, so good! But here's the kicker: Mr. Gelfat will change Stevens' Nursery, it will be only one third of the current nursery. Mr. Schaffel, the developer, has agreed to this arrangement only if he can construct a four story condominium on the remaining two-thirds of the property. This would require an exception to the Valley Village Specific Plan. The Specific Plan does not allow four stories. Mr. Schaffel has said that in order to accommodate the smaller nursery and still build enough units to make the project viable, he needs to go to a four story building.

When Gary Schaffel purchased the Stevens' property, he was fully aware of our Specific Plan and its height restrictions. In addition, Jim Stevens, the current owner, made no conditions in the sale regarding retaining the nursery.

Please be aware of this dangerous precedent. Our strength has been in the conditions of the Specific Plan. I am certain you are aware of the many monstrous apartment buildings that are four stories or higher in our community. These "stucco mountains" had been constructed before our Specific Plan became a reality in 1993. All new construction since then has to be three stories (or less) in height. This gives our community a cohesive, livable look.

This is not about the nursery, trust me. Yes, a nursery is a welcome business, but in no way can we or will we compromise our Specific Plan (height or other restrictions). There are many developers chomping at the bit to develop projects in Valley Village, we therefore cannot make an exception – every developer will then feel justified to demand exceptions to the Specific Plan.
