VALLEY VILLAGE HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION

VOL. 16 NUMBER 2 May 2006

P.O. BOX 4916, VALLEY VILLAGE, CA 91617

Mansionization-Plus

In past Valley Villagers we reported on the growing trend of developers buying a Valley Village home and tearing it down to make way for a much larger home that uses most of the space on the lot. This has been commonly referred to as "Mansionization." Now this trend has spread to the apartment buildings in Valley Village. Many Village renters are receiving eviction notices for the apartments they occupy in smaller, older buildings to make way for larger, new condominium buildings.

When a developer buys a smaller, older structure and builds a new structure that maximizes the lot, whether a single family home or an apartment building, it seems like the same issue, Mansionization. But, there is one major difference: the overall effect on the community is more than just visual or blocking someone's backyard sunshine. Valley Village and City resources will be used at a greater rate, affecting everyone who lives here.

One large single-family home replacing one smaller single-family home does not have the same impact on the infrastructure as 24 condos standing where 12 apartments used to be. That means more children in the schools, more traffic on the streets, more water used, more sewage in the sewers and more strain on all public services and facilities.

This is happening in Valley Village. Four, side-by-side apartment buildings were just purchased by a developer on Magnolia between Colfax and Laurel Canyon. The same thing has happened on Albers Street and versions of it can be seen on Laurel Canyon near the corner of Huston. Mansionization? Or maybe we should call it Mansionization-Plus.

Of course there are two sides to every story -- Owners have the right to sell their homes or their buildings. More homeowners mean more tax revenue for the City. These projects, whether they are single-family homes or multi-family condos, are being constructed legally under current building codes, regulations and the Valley Village Specific Plan. Los Angeles does need more housing. And sometimes progress is growth, where once stood walnut groves is now Valley Village.

City Councilmember Wendy Greuel, on April 24, 2006, held a meeting to discuss the growing concern of Valley Village renters. While no immediate solution was found at that meeting, our Councilmembers need to hear how you feel about this. The Association urges you to call, write or email your Councilmember to express your point of view. In Valley Village your Councilmembers are Wendy Greuel 755-7676 or Jack Weiss 756-8083. Fourth of July Parade!

Are you ready to strut your stuff? July Fourth will be here before you know it. Now is the time to gather your friends and neighbors and plan to show off your red, white and blue creativity. It doesn't have to be elaborate just something to identify your family or street. Go to our new website www.ValleyVillageHA.com click Contact Us and let Jerry Fagin, parade chair, know what your theme will be.

Volunteers for planning and for set up on the Fourth are always needed. Everyone knows Valley Village has a wonderful parade. That can only continue if people step up to help make it happen. This year we are searching for a small marching band. If you have any contacts, please work on them.

From The President

Hi! Our next Valley Village Homeowners Association meeting will be at our usual meeting place, Colfax School on Thursday, May 18th at 7:00pm. Please note new time.

Congratulations to Colfax School, one of 32 Los Angeles Unified School District schools to be recognized as a 2006 California Distinguished School. No doubt, Principal Joanie Freckmann's leadership brought this about. Aren't we fortunate to have such a fine staff and great parents in our community? Congratulations to all, especially the students!

The February Birthday Party, co-sponsored by VVHA and Neighborhood Council Valley Village was a huge success with great food and entertainment. It was a sold-out event. Next year we will need a larger venue to accommodate everybody. We apologize that we could not accommodate everyone due to the limited space. The Fire Department's strict rules protect us all. Thank you, Valley Villagers who made this party a great success and thanks to all the terrific, hard-working volunteers who made it happen. Our next big bash will be the Fourth of July Parade. Start planning your floats and entries.

Speaking of important events, Supervisor Zev Yaroslavsky will be the guest speaker at our May 18th Association meeting. He is one of our most powerful and influential politicians, not only in Los Angeles County but also in California. He is an outstanding speaker and has supported his constituents in many controversial issues. He enjoys the question and answer format and is willing to address any of your concerns. Bring your friends, neighbors, your significant others, we should have a full auditorium for this important meeting.

Another urgent matter on the agenda at this Association meeting will be the large number of oversized boxy houses being built in the area. To address this issue in a non-confrontational, professional manner the Association has hired a professional consultant, Michael Metcalfe of Metcalfe Associates, Urban Design and Development Planning. Mike will address open space requirements and density and will propose some revisions to the language regarding Floor Area Ratio (FAR). While this is a very controversial issue, we are confident that we will reach an acceptable compromise becoming a beacon for other communities facing the same problem. This is a challenge for Valley Village but with your support a fair solution can become a reality. Therefore, we urge you to attend the May meeting. A Town Hall meeting will be called at a later date. This is an example of your membership dues at work.

You most likely have noticed the many developments under construction in Valley Village, not only large homes, but large commercial buildings. We are keeping an eye on all projects. We cannot and do not aim to halt development, but we do watch carefully to be certain they meet our Specific Plan criteria. Trust us, our eyes are wide open.

Hurrah, hurrah! The "Massage Parlor" on Riverside Drive is a thing of the past. We prevailed in that situation with the help of Deputy City Attorney, Brian Sentille who was able to bring a misdemeanor charge against the operator. It took a long time but it is another victory for the VV Specific Plan and the determination of the Association.

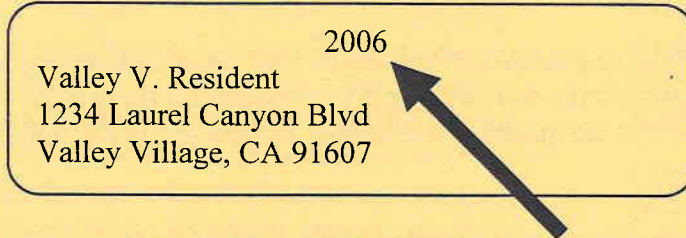

We are bidding a reluctant farewell to our wonderful friends, Mimi and Dan O'Keefe, tireless workers for the Association and the community and all-around great guys! They are heading east for a successful future. Auf Wiedersehen, au revoir, good luck and many blessings. You will be missed.
